

Early Journal Content on JSTOR, Free to Anyone in the World

This article is one of nearly 500,000 scholarly works digitized and made freely available to everyone in the world by JSTOR.

Known as the Early Journal Content, this set of works include research articles, news, letters, and other writings published in more than 200 of the oldest leading academic journals. The works date from the mid-seventeenth to the early twentieth centuries.

We encourage people to read and share the Early Journal Content openly and to tell others that this resource exists. People may post this content online or redistribute in any way for non-commercial purposes.

Read more about Early Journal Content at http://about.jstor.org/participate-jstor/individuals/early-journal-content.

JSTOR is a digital library of academic journals, books, and primary source objects. JSTOR helps people discover, use, and build upon a wide range of content through a powerful research and teaching platform, and preserves this content for future generations. JSTOR is part of ITHAKA, a not-for-profit organization that also includes Ithaka S+R and Portico. For more information about JSTOR, please contact support@jstor.org.

Inspection of immigrants at the subports of Porto Rico during the week ended April 20, 1901.

SAN JUAN, P. R., April 22, 1901.

SIR: I submit herewith report of alien steerage passengers arriving during the week ended April 20, 1901, at subports of Porto Rico:

Mayaguez.—April 14. American schooner Victoria, from St. Domingo, with 1 immigrant. April 16, French steamship St. Domingue, from Port au Prince, Petit Goave, Jeremie, Les Cayez, Jacmel, and St. Domingo, with 5 immigrants. Total, 6. Other subports, no transactions.

Respectfully,

H. S. MATHEWSON,

Assistant Surgeon, U. S. M. H. S. Chief Quarantine Officer for Porto Rico.

The SURGEON-GENERAL,

U. S. Marine-Hospital Service.

STRAITS SETTLEMENTS.

No plague at Singapore for ten days.

SINGAPORE, March 21, 1901.

SIR: I have the honor to transmit the inclosed copy of a letter from the acting colonial secretary of the Straits Settlements under date the 17th instant, reporting that the port of Singapore is now free from contamination, no cases of plague having occurred here for the full period of ten days, and requesting that any quarantine restrictions imposed by my Government be at once removed.

The restrictions referred to were imposed in accordance with United States quarantine regulations, as well as to meet the request of the chief quarantine officer at Manila, P. I., and consisted of the prohibition of shipments hence, of various articles to the Philippine Islands, and the requirement from passengers for any port in said slands of a certificate by the medical officer of this consulate stating that they had been examined and found free of infection.

I have duly notified owners, masters, and agents of vessels, and shippers to the Philippines that these restrictions have now been removed.

J. M. CAMPBELL,

Acting United States Vice and Deputy Consul-General. Hon. Assistant Secretary of State.

[Inclosure.]

SINGAPORE, March 17, 1901.

SIR: I am directed to report that no case of plague has now occurred in Singapore for the full period of ten days and that the port is, therefore, free from contamination and to request that any quarantine restrictions imposed by your Government may be at once withdrawn.

Clean bills of health are being granted and inspection of passengers will, of course, cease from to-day.

Respectfully,

A. W. O'SULLIVAN,
For Acting Colonial Secretary, Straits Settlement.

The ACTING VICE AND DEPUTY CONSUL-GENERAL

FOR THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, Singapore.